INTRODUCTORY

The New England Church takes pleasure in presenting you with this manual of its organization and the record of its members. We trust that it will serve as a useful directory of its work and of those who are its supporters and members. It is hoped that this manual will remind those who are members, of their solemn and beautiful covenant obligations; they have promised to maintain its services, to further its plans of work, to give very seriously all they can to further the gospel of Christ through its agencies. It is hoped that those who have recently come among us, and those who have not yet entered upon full membership, will find from the perusal of these pages some help to know their new home, and we trust some inducement later to the further step of becoming members.

Will you not co-operate in making this church all that it ought to be?

HISTORICAL SKETCH

During the year 1852 the opening for a Congregational church on the North side approved itself to a few brethren. The Rev. John C. Holbrook, then editor of the Congregational Herald, was invited to preside over the movement. Sabbath afternoon services were held in the North Market Hall and weekly prayer meetings in private houses. The New England Church was recognized by a council of Congregational Churches on June 15, 1853, with a membership of twenty-one. The pulpit was supplied by Mr. Holbrook till the close of 1855, when he was succeeded by Rev. Charles P. Bush, who with much acceptance administered to the church till the accession to the pastorate on April 15, 1857, of Rev. Samuel C. Bartlett, of Manchester, N. H. For three years he fulfilled the duties of the office till called to the Professorship of Biblical Literature in the Chicago Theological Seminary. He was succeeded by Rev. Samuel Wolcott, D. D., of Providence, R. I., who was installed on September 27, 1859, and was followed on October 1, 1862, by Rev. Starr H. Nichols of Danbury, Conn. In 1865 Mr. Nichols accepted a call to Cincinnati, and in November of the same year Rev. John P. Gulliver accepted the call of the church.

The new house of worship was completed, and dedicated on February 7, 1867. The membership had now increased to over 200. Dr. Gulliver, after a three years' pastorate, accepted a pressing call to the Presidency of Knox College, and after a transient supply of nearly a year, principally by

The new house of worship was completed, and dedicated on February 7, 1867. The membership had now increased to over 200. Dr. Gulliver, after a three years' pastorate, accepted a pressing call to the Presidency of Knox College, and after a transient supply of nearly a year, principally by

Rev. S. Hopkins Emery, the pastorate was filled by Rev. Leander T. Chamberlain of Andover Theological Seminary, who remained with the church about eight years, during which time the church building was destroyed by fire and rebuilt. He was succeeded by Rev. Arthur Little, D. D., of Fond du Lac, Wis., who after a pastorate of ten years, was succeeded by Rev. James Gibson Johnson, D. D. of Norwich, Conn., who resigned in May, 1897. In April, 1898, Rev. William Douglas Mackenzie, D. D., began ministering to the church, aided after September of that year by Rev. Horace Leslie Strain, who was succeeded in June, 1901, as associate pastor by Rev. Benjamin S. Winchester. On January 1, 1904, Dr. Mackenzie and Mr. Winchester both accepted other calls to service and were succeeded in the fall of 1905 by Rev. Horace B. Williams who remained with us as pastor until the Sprng of 1907.

At present the church is ministered to by Rev. Percival F. Marston, D. D., who began his service here in December, 1907, and under whose guidance the church has broadened its work in an endeavor to meet the various needs of the part of the city in which it is located.

PRINCIPLES OF ORGANIZATION

The New England Church was organized after the form called "Congregational," and still continues in that polity. It believes that each association of Christians—united for the worship of Almighty God, in the faith of His Son Jesus Christ, and observing the sacraments and ordinances of the Gospel—is a complete Church. It acknowledges the right of no human authority to dictate its doctrines, its order, or its mode of worship; but holds itself strictly responsible to its sole head, the Lord Jesus, for all its acts and arrangements. It assumes the Holy Scripture to be the true guide of church order and discipline, and derives from its pages the plainest instructions to elect its own officers; to receive, dismiss, or discipline its members, and to administer its own government, in all essentials as a democracy of faith. With this assertion of the duty of self-government, however, it combines the hearty approval of such relations to other churches as tend to promote Christian union, and to insure confidence in each other's purity. It recognizes the advantages of councils with neighboring churches in affairs of importance or of difficulty, gladly seeking and giving advice in all serious matters.

It most earnestly urges upon the attention of believers that this is the true scriptural form of church organization; the earliest, simplest and best polity. And it further declares that it seems to be the only form in which all churches and all Christian people can meet in the full enjoyment of that equal fellowship which is the right and the duty of all believers, according to the Scripture. In this form it sees no separating customs and no unscriptural tests.

The essential officers of the Church are two-fold: Pastors, corresponding to the bishops and elders of Holy Writ, and Deacons; neither of these having any individual authority to decide questions of government or of discipline; nor have any committees power to commit the Church to any movement without the concurrent vote of the general brotherhood; but all things are to be done decently and in order, as shall seem good to the majority of the brethren.

And here, also, as worthy of consideration, we would call to mind that this church polity is of one and the same character with that republican form of government so wisely adopted by our forefathers for the whole country, and is therefore peculiarly fitted to infuse the spirit and to sustain the principles by which alone our institutions have been and can be supported. And with this opinion we think the past history of the Congregational Churches in our land concurs.

But, while holding its own form to be the true one, this Church would never forget the dictates of Christian charity, and accordingly recognizes the fellowship of faith by which it is bound to all bodies and communions who hold the doctrine of our Lord Jesus Christ in purity and in love; it recognizes the duty of joining with them, from time to time, in worship, or in counsel, remembering that all are one body in Christ, who is Lord over all, to the glory of God the Father.

RECEPTION OF MEMBERS

[The following is the form in which those uniting with this Church make Confession of their Faith in Christ at the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The Candidates occupy the front seats for the Communion Service. The Minister reads:]

Jesus saith,

"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest; take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls; for My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."

"And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come; and let him that heareth say, Come; and let him that is athirst, come; and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."

[Here the Candidates for membership on confession will rise.]

Dearly Beloved:

You are here before God and many witnesses to confess the Lord Jesus Christ. We trust that you appreciate the solemnity and the blessedness of this confession, and that He which hath begun a good work in you, will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ.

CONFESSION OF FAITH

I. We believe in one God; eternal, unchangeable, invisible, infinite in power, wisdom, holiness and love. He exists in three persons; the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. He made all things by the word of His power, and governs them by the counsel of His will.

II. We believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be inspired of God; to contain a revelation of His will, and to be the authoritative rule of faith and practice.

III. We believe that God was manifest in the flesh, in the person of His Son Jesus Christ, who dwelt upon the earth and by His sufferings and death, offered a perfect sacrifice for sin, reconciling the world unto God; that He rose from the dead, and evermore liveth at the right hand of the Father.

IV. We believe that our first parents fell from a state of holiness by disobedience, and that all their posterity are not only prone to evil but do actually sin and become guilty before God.

V. We believe that salvation from sin, with eternal life, are truly offered to all men in Jesus Christ; and that all who heartily repent of sin and believe in Him are regenerated by the Holy Spirit, and saved by His grace.

VI. We believe that God hath chosen his people from the beginning in his Son, and that they are kept through sanctification of the Spirit, unto salvation.

VII. We believe that the Christian Sabbath is of permanent obligation; that God's moral law is forever binding as a rule of duty, and that all should strive to honor and keep them.

VIII. We believe that the Lord Jesus Christ is the head of a visible Church in this world, to which it is the right and duty of all believers to unite themselves; that He hath appointed the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper to be observed by His Church to the end of the world.

IX. We believe in the resurrection of the dead; and in a final judgment, from which the wicked shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal.

BAPTISM

[The Pastor will first address those who have been baptised in infancy, as follows:]

You, who were dedicated to God in your childhood in the ordinance of Infant Baptism, by your believing parents, do hereby declare your personal acceptance of the same, and your belief that the regeneration hereby signified has been wrought within your soul by the Holy Spirit.

[Then to the others the Pastor will say:]

You, who trust that your hearts have been renewed by the Holy Spirit, but who have never received the outward seal of the covenant, will now, upon this profession of your faith, present yourselves for the ordinance of Baptism.

[When Baptism has been administered, the Pastor will say:]

Attend now to the Covenant into which you are to enter with God and His Church.

COVENANT

You, now, in the presence of God, angels and men, do acknowledge the Lord Jehovah to be your God. You confess the Father to be your Father; the Son to be your Savior; the Holy Ghost to be your Sanctifier.

You take God's Word to be the guide of your life; and, renouncing the dominion of this world, you consecrate both soul and body unto the service of God, promising, by His help, to keep your consecration unto the end.

[Those uniting by Letter will here rise.]

You, who, in the fellowship of the saints, have come to us from other Churches of our Lord, do covenant with this Church to join in its ordinances and public worship; to submit to its rules and discipline; to strive for its purity and peace.

You will walk with its members in love and faithfulness, as long as you shall continue among them.

Thus you covenant.

[The Church will here rise.]

We, then, the members of this Church of Christ, do joyfully receive you. We welcome you to our communion and fellowship. We promise to you our sympathies, our watchfulness, our prayers. We greet you as members with us of the spiritual body of Christ. We unite with you in the acknowledgment of one Lord, one faith, one baptism. And may God enable us all to be true to each other, and to the brotherhood and the charity of the saints, and to Himself forever.

Beloved, the Lord bless you! the Lord keep you! the Lord lift the light of His countenance upon you, and give you peace! Amen.

In token of our confidence and sympathy, and as a pledge of our brotherly kindness and love, take the hand of welcome, and remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said:

[Here the minister shall take each new member by the hand in turn, repeating to each some appropriate saying of Christ.]

RULES

ARTICLE I

Name and Church Action

1. The corporate name of this Church shall be "NEW ENGLAND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF CHICAGO."

2. All officers and committees shall be chosen, and, with the exceptions specified in Article VIII, all questions shall be decided by vote of the majority of members present.

ARTICLE II

Officers, Board of Trustees, Council and Committees

1. In accordance with New Testament examples, the Officers of the Church shall be one or more Pastors and Deacons. There shall also be chosen, by ballot, at the annual Church meeting, Trustees, a Clerk, a Treasurer for Home Expenses and a Treasurer for Benevolences, and for each Sabbath School connected with the Church, a committee, which, with the teachers, shall select the officers of the School, and have the general direction of its affairs.

The Sabbath School Superintendents shall be elected by the Church, on nomination of the teachers of the respective Schools.

2. The Deacons shall be chosen by ballot, at some meeting previously designated by vote of the Church, of which notice shall be given from the pulpit on the preceding Sabbath. Their duties shall be to serve the Lord's Table, to carry out, in cooperation with the Pastors, the provisions of Article III entitled "Discipline," to relieve the poor and sick members of the Church, so far as the Church funds allow, and to perform all the ordinary duties of such officers.

3. There shall be elected a Board, consisting of five Trustees, who shall have the care, custody and control of the real and personal property of the Church, subject to the direction of the Church.

They shall elect one of their number President. The Treasurer for Home Expenses shall be ex officio Clerk of the Board of Trustees and shall keep minutes of their meetings.

It shall be their duty to inform the Church Council from time to time, and especially at the beginning of the year, of all expenditures in connection with the property of the Church.

Five members shall be elected Trustees at the meeting at which the Church may resolve to incorporate, two to serve until the annual meeting in January, 1902, and three to serve until the next annual meeting thereafter. Members to replace the out-going class shall be elected at each annual meeting.

4. The Clerk shall record the proceedings of the Church, and furnish certified copies of his record when required. He shall keep a file of its public papers, and a list of its members, with the time of their admission, dismission or death, and a record of the baptisms. He shall also issue certificates of dismission and recommendation granted by the Church, or this duty may be performed by one of the Pastors.

5. The Treasurer for Home Expenses shall receive the income of the Church contributed for Church expenses and shall disburse the same under the direction of the Church.

6. The Treasurer for Benevolences shall receive the various contributions of the Church and congregation for benevolences and shall disburse them under the direction of the Church, and shall have the care of the Pastoral Library.

7. There shall be a Church Council, consisting of the Pastors, Deacons, Trustees, Clerk, Treasurers, Superintendent of the home Sabbath School, and such other persons as may from time to time be determined by vote of the Church.

The Council shall have general supervision of the entire interests and work of the Church. It shall nominate to the Church the following Committees, namely: a Finance Committee, a Committee on Membership, a Committee on Denominational Interests and Home Missions, and a Committee on Foreign Missions. It may in addition nominate any other Committee, as it may see fit, for special work or special occasions not herein provided for.

Members of these Committees may be elected at the business meeting at which the nominations of the Church Council are presented or at any other business meeting. Any members of the Church not members of the Church Council may be elected to serve on these Committees with full voting powers. The Pastors shall be ex officiis members of all Committees. The Committees shall report to the Council or to the Church as occasion may require.

The Council shall have its regular meetings on the Friday following the second Sunday in every month excepting July and August. Any one of these dates may be altered by the Council or by one of the Pastors and the Clerk. Full notice of such meetings shall be given in the Church Calendar and from the pulpit on the Sabbath preceding the meeting.

8. The constitution and duties of the Committees nominated by the Church Council shall be as follows:

The Finance Committee shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be the Treasurer for Home Expenses. This Committee shall have charge of the finances relating to the running expenses of the Church. It shall present to the Church Council at its December meeting a budget of estimated expenses for the following year and a plan for raising funds for the same. It shall report to each meeting of the Church Council the condition of the finances at that date.

The Committee on Denominational Interests and Home Missions shall consist of five members, the Clerk and the Treasurer for Benevolences and three others. This Committee shall have charge of all matters pertaining to the relations of the Church with other Congregational Churches. It shall also undertake such measures as it may deem best to promote interest in the recognized home missionary societies of the denomination and to secure contributions for them.

The Committee on Membership shall consist of the Deacons, the Clerk of the Church and three ladies. This Committee shall have charge of the spiritual condition of the Church. It shall consider all applications for membership or dismission and report thereon.

The Committee on Foreign Missions shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be the Treasurer for Benevolences. This Committee shall undertake such measures as it may deem best to promote interest in the organized foreign mission work of the denomination and to secure contributions for the same. It shall also have charge of any particular undertaking of the Church with reference to the work of foreign missions.

9. There shall be elected annually an Auditing Committee of two, whose duty it shall be to examine the Clerk's records and the accounts of the Treasurers and report to the Church.

10. A vacancy in any office provided for in this Article may be filled, until the next annual meeting thereafter, at any business meeting of the Church.

ARTICLE III

Discipline

1. The Church censures shall be admonition, suspension, withdrawal of fellowship, and excommunication. Excommunication shall be announced from the pulpit.

2. The rule of discipline shall be, except in cases of open and flagrant immorality demanding immediate action, that laid down by our Savior in the eighteenth chapter of Matthew (15-17 verses), viz.: first, private labor by an individual; if this is unsuccessful, then by one or two more; and this failing, the case shall be laid before the Church.

3. In cases of discipline, one week's notice shall be given to the Church, ordinarily, before final action; and the subject thereof shall be notified of the time, and have the right to be heard before the Church, personally or by proxy; said proxy being a professor of religion.

ARTICLE IV
Reception of Members

1. Persons desiring to unite with this Church on profession of faith, may signify their desire to one of the Pastors or one of the Deacons. They shall be examined as to their Christian experience by the Committee appointed for that purpose. The examinations being sustained, they will be propounded from the pulpit one week previous to reception. The names of such candidates shall be reported to the Church on the Wednesday evening preceding communion when they may be received into the Church by vote, which vote shall take effect upon their publicly assenting to the Articles, receiving baptism, if not previously baptized, and entering into covenant with the Church.

2. Members of other evangelical Churches applying for admission by letter, and assenting to our Articles, may be received by vote of the Church, on publicly entering into covenant. But, unless ordered otherwise, their letters shall be read to the Church at least one week previous to its action upon them.

ARTICLE V
Dismission of Members

1. It is expected that members, on removing, will ask letters of dismission and recommendation. In case of delay longer than one year, it shall be the business of the Clerk to remind them of their duty.

2. Applications for letters of dismission should specify the particular Church which the member wishes to join, and that Church shall be notified of the fact by the Clerk. The request shall, ordinarily, be laid before the Church one week before final action.

ARTICLE VI
Meetings and Ordinances

1. The Annual Meeting shall be held on the first Wednesday after the fourth day of January. The following reports shall then be considered: From the Treasurer for Home Expenses a report of all funds by him received and disbursed; from the Church Council a report of the budget for the following year and a plan for raising funds for the same; from the Treasurer for Benevolences a report of all funds by him received and disbursed, accompanied with a statement of such other benevolent contributions from members of the congregation as may come to his knowledge, though not passing through his hands, and also a report as to the condition of the Pastoral Library; from the Clerk a report of the names of those constituted life members or life directors of benevolent societies through the contributions of the Church, during the year, with a report of the items embraced in the annual report to the General Association; from the Deacons a report of the state and progress of religion in the Church and congregation, taking notice of the additions to the Church, dismissions from it, and cases of permanent absence without dismission, and including whatever stands related to the outward prosperity and spiritual welfare of the Church; from the Managers of the Sabbath Schools, through the Superintendents, a report of the operation and success of the Sabbath Schools.

2. The Lord's Supper shall be celebrated on the first Sabbath in January, March, May and November and the third Sabbath in June and September, and a preparatory lecture shall be given on the Wednesday evening next preceding each such celebration.

3. Invitation shall be given to parents to present their children for baptism, particularly on the Sabbath succeeding the Communion, or the ordinance may be administered at other times. Each child baptized in the Church, and remaining with it, shall be presented with a Bible when reaching the age of seven years.

4. There shall be a regular weekly religious meeting, on Wednesday evening, which it shall be considered the duty of all members to attend.

5. The monthly concert of prayer for missions shall be held on the Wednesday evening succeeding the first Sunday in each month, and a contribution solicited for missionary purposes.

6. Business may be transacted at the religious meeting held on the Wednesday evening after the third Sabbath of each month or at any meeting specially called for the purpose by the Church Council or one of the Pastors or fixed by the Church. No business except the granting of letters of dismission and the appointment of delegates to Councils, shall be transacted at any other time.

Notice of any special meeting, stating the purpose for which it is called, must have been given and notice of regular meetings shall be given on the previous Sabbath from the pulpit or in the Calendar.

At all meetings for business one of the Pastors shall preside, or in their absence one of the Deacons, unless the Church should designate some other member for the purpose.

ARTICLE VII
Contributions

1. Funds to pay home expenses shall be raised from among members and pew holders and their families in such ways as the Church may from time to time provide.

2. There shall be a contribution taken up at the celebration of the Lord's Supper, the avails of which shall be applied, first, to defraying the expenses of the Lord's Table; secondly, to the relief of poor or sick members; thirdly, to the purchase of Bibles for the baptized children, or to such other purposes as the Church may direct, when not needed for those purposes.

3. Contributions shall be solicited in the congregation for the leading benevolences, according to a schedule adopted by the Church from time to time.

ARTICLE VIII
Amendments

1. These rules may be amended by vote of two-thirds of the members present at any meeting at which business can be transacted, provided that public notice of such amendment shall have been given in writing at the previous regular business meeting, and announced from the pulpit on the previous Sabbath.

2. No change shall be made in the Articles of Faith or Covenant, except by a vote of three-fourths of the members present at a meeting of the Church, of which notice shall have been given from the pulpit on the two Sabbaths next preceding such meeting; nor shall any change be considered unless a notice containing its substance shall have been given in writing at a previous meeting.

ARTICLE IX
Councils

1. In case of difficulty in the Church which cannot be otherwise adjusted, or between Pastor and Church; or when a member shall feel aggrieved by the action of the Church; also, in the settlement and dismission of a Pastor, resort shall be had to advisory councils, according to the approved usage of Congregational Churches.

ARTICLE X
By-Laws

By-laws and regulations to carry out the provisions and principles of these standing rules may be enacted at any business meeting.

April 18, 1906

BY-LAW RELATING TO DEACONS

The Deacons of New England Church shall be six in number, of whom not less than two shall hold office for life. The first two vacancies which shall exist after the adoption of this by-law shall be filled by the election of two Deacons for the term of four years from the last annual meeting of the Church, January 10, 1906. Thereafter the next two vacancies that may occur shall be filled by the election of Deacons for such length of term as will expire at an interval of two years from the end of the terms of the two Deacons first elected for four years, as hereinbefore provided; it being the intention of this by-law to provide, as soon as practicable, for a Board of six Deacons, of whom not less than two shall hold office for life, and not more than four shall hold office for the term of four years, and that the terms of office of these four last mentioned shall be so arranged that two of them will expire with the annual meeting of the Church at intervals of each two years.

Above Rules and By-Laws in force March 1, 1911.
